CASE IS ENDED BY ADMITTING ERROR

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The United States department of justice has notified Attorney Timothy Healy that it would file with the supreme court, March 6th, a confession of error in the state taken that 22 Hindus ordered deported on their arrival from Manila four years ago, had no right to enter the United States.

Healy said that the confession of error would end the case. The federal, district and appellate courts upheld the commissioner of immigration in denying the Hindus entry. Healy appealed to the supreme court on the ground that Healy claimed that admittance granted there was in itself permission to enter continental territory.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL CALLS FOR HALF A BILLION DOLLARS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—Final approval of the naval appropriation bill was voted by the senate naval committee, with the total raised to about half a billion dollars by adding $120,000,000 to the measure as it passed the house. Appropriations are carried for the coming year's share of the great three-year building program, and there are various special provisions, including authorization for commandeering of private shipbuilding and ammunition plants in time of national peril.

The emergency construction appropriation of $150,000,000 recommended by the senate sub-committee was reduced to $115,000,000 with a specific direction that $35,000,000 of this be expended by submarines. An amendment by Senator Polk of Oregon was adopted directing that forty of the additional submarines should be coast vessels and ten fleet submarines, half of each type to be built on the Pacific coast.

GOLD COINS SUFFER FROM CONSTANT USE

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—Approximately 50 per cent of the gold coin in common circulation on the Pacific slope, reports to the treasury department indicate, is light weight, the loss being negligible on each coin, but ranging between 50 cents and $3.75 per $1,000. This loss in weight is attributable to abrasion, due to the passage from hand to hand.

Investigation has disclosed that many foreign governments, notably Great Britain and Japan, have enacted legislation under which gold coin is bought back at its minted value, the government standing the loss due to abrasion.

Los Angeles banks have reported that the loss per $1000 in gold, due to abrasion, was $1.37, $1.98 and $2.13 among $20, $10 and $5 gold coins, respectively, in a recent test involving a large sum. In Portland, Oregon, a similar test showed losses of $1.25, $2.50 and $3.75, respectively, per $1000. Seattle banks reported that the average losses due to abrasion was $3.11 per $1000; in Spokane, the loss in a test involving $5000 was computed at $1.80 per thousand.

One Salt Lake City bank informed the board recently that it had $500,000 in gold that the clearing house preferred to leave there rather than accept it in small gold coins, among which the abrasion is highest.

In the east, where gold is little utilized in circulation, the abrasion loss is slight, the New York mint reporting that only three-fifths of one per cent of the coins received recently in a $400,000 shipment, were light weight. The largest single loss recorded recently was at San Francisco, where $1360 of a $1500 shipment was lightweight, the loss being $12 on the shipment.

REV. BAILEY RETURNS WITH A FAIR BRIDE

Rev. Harlan Bailey, rector of St. Marks Episcopal church, and Miss Lue Merrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Merrick, of Austin, Minnesota, were married in that city on Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a goodly number of friends. The church in which the vows were spoken was profusely decorated with flowers and evergreens.

The bride is a high school graduate and a collegian. She is possessed of a sunny disposition and a strong, sweet character. It is her ambition to be a help to her husband, who has already demonstrated himself to be a power for good in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey returned to Tonopah via Seattle and San Francisco. They received a cordial welcome here.

NO CHANGE OF VENUE
In the case of the state of Nevada versus Charge Fagan, a motion for change of venue was heard by Judge Averill and denied. The trial will take place March 5.

The committee also added to the house program three coast guard cutters to cost $1,350,000; $772,000 for extension of the Washington navy yard, and $750,000 for a drydock at Charleston, S. C.

Provision is made for increasing the class at the naval academy by 614 members, providing for appointment of four instead of three midshipmen by each senator and representative, for 100 from enlisted men instead of 25, and for four from the Philippines. The term at the naval academy would be reduced from four to three years for a period of five years.

Other important increases approved include $400,000 for a high power radio station in Porto Rico; $800,000 for batteries for merchant marine auxiliaries; $450,000 for ammunition for such auxiliaries; $3,000,000 for reserve material for the navy and $1,950,000 for engineering purposes, including radio installation on light vessels.

POTASH IS MADE AS A BY PRODUCT

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Production of potash in the United States has been greatly accelerated as a direct result of the European war, Dr. H. J. Wysor, superintendent of the furnaces of the Bethlehem Steel Co. informed delegates at the convention of the American Institute of Mining Engineers late today. He asserted that "soaring prices have been a keen incentive to research and industrial development."

"The average annual importation of raw potash salts for several years prior to 1914," he said, "was slightly over 500,000 net tons and of other potash salts about 500,000 tons."

"The sudden and almost total cessation of these imports created a unique and stringent situation. Methods of recovering potash from feldspar and other native minerals sources and reclamation from hitherto waste products have received a marked impetus."

Dr. Wysor asserted that potash may be reclaimed as a profitable by-product of pig iron, a fact not generally known.

"With the beginning of the war and the substantial spectacular rise in the potash market," he added, "conditions were changed. Knowing just what dust to recover reclamation immediately commenced, a satisfactory contract was negotiated and this company has been disposing of the dust at a good profit since."

WEATHER STILL THREATENS

A low pressure shows on the barometer late this afternoon and the wind from the southeast is blowing at the rate of 30 miles an hour for five minutes duration.

While the sky is heavily overcast there has been no snowfall subsequent to the first flurry, but the indications are favorable for further precipitation. The chinook has cleaned the streets and nearly denuded the hills of the covering of snow.

BELLEHELEN MINES BEING PROVEN UP

SAM NEWHOUSE AND LEASERS ARE FINDING PROFITABLE ORE BODIES

J. M. Hensley and John Freeman, who have a lease and bond on a Bellehelen property, are in Tonopah for a few days. Their associate, Charles Rader, will arrive shortly from Montana.

Their property has been developed for several months and there is a good ore showing. They will either ship to Tonopah or install a small mill.

The Cornforth property at Bellehelen is the best developed in the district. It is rumored that it is bonded to Sam Newhouse. A shipment was recently made to the West End mill in Tonopah, which netted $80 a ton. The values are in gold and silver, with the white metal in preponderance.

STATEMENT FROM BRITAIN ON EFFECT OF SUBMARINE WARFARE

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—The British embassy here has issued a statement announcing that Germany's "widely advertised campaign of ruthless murder on the high seas" resulted in the loss of less than one ship in every hundred plying in or out of British ports between February 1 and 14.

"The German wireless messages," said the statement, "since the German declaration of indiscriminate warfare against merchant shipping within a zone around the United Kingdom and France have been confined to advertising achievements of German submarines."

"Claims to have paralyzed the mercantile marine activity of the allies and more particularly that of Britain have appeared together with hints at a vast increase in the number of German submarines so employed."

"During the period in question the following are the figures of ships which have arrived and sailed from ports in the United Kingdom:

"Date, February 1 to February 14: Arrivals—British, 4063; allied, 227; neutral, 497; total 4477.

"Sailings—British, 3928; allied, 225; neutral, 361; total, 4514."

ON A SUBMARINE

British destroyer, which came at full speed.

The submarine hastily submerged, sending a torpedo at the steamer before going under. An appalling explosion followed, which, had the submarine been still on the surface, might have had even more serious consequences to it.

"We had no time to see what became of the steamer's crew, which were in the boats near the steamer," said the Norwegian. "The submarine was tossed about so convulsively by the force of the explosion that we were all thrown down. The submarine's deck was ripped up, and we thought our last hour had come."

The destroyer headed at ever increasing speed for the submerging submarine, but the U-boat was far enough down to escape the full force of the blow. The men in the U-boat were thrown hither and thither but a quick examination showed that the submarine had not sprung a leak.

"One engine, however, was disabled, and the boat lost part of its maneuvering ability, making abandonment at of the cruise advisable."

"The return trip was one long succession of 'ups and downs,' the submarine being obliged to submerge frequently as often as once an hour to avoid British patrol ships."

The sensations of the civil passengers during the frequent dives and frequently during the anxious moments when the submarine was carelessly feeling its way to the surface, ignorant of whether a British ship might not be waiting to ram her, were by no means agreeable, and the extreme variations of temperature between the submerged and surface positions were hard to bear.

"The food was good and abundant, the boat having been provisioned for a four-weeks' cruise."

The name of the commander of the German submarine which sank the Lusitania has never been officially announced. The latest unofficial announcement of the submarine captain responsible for her destruction named Captain Max Valentiner, son of the dean of the Sondersburg cathedral.

AMUSEMENTS

LIBERTY THEATER

Any person who likes a good photoplay will surely make a mistake if they do not visit the Liberty tonight and see Gail Kane, the local favorite, in "The Scarlet Oath." One of the easiest things to say, and one of the most abused remarks in the English language is the expression "Upon my oath."

"The Scarlet Shadow" is the vow of a tremendous organization. Already America, whose gates have been thrown open to the people of the world, threatens to close them against its members, and yet few Americans know much if anything about this powerful order.

"The Scarlet Oath" is a tremendous story, with a thrill in every scene, not a melodrama, but a love drama with unusual settings and highly exciting episodes. Also "Tours of the World," visiting Egypt, Holland and the Adriatic Sea.

Tomorrow: J. Warren Kerrigan and Louise Lovely in a five-reel Bluebird production entitled "The Social Buccaneer," a story of an attempt to equalize wealth by a novel method. Ford Weekly and a Mutt and Jeff comedy.

BUTLER THEATER

There will be another picture that is different shown at the Butler this evening. It is dainty Edna Mayo in a five-reel production entitled "The Return of Eve." Miss Mayo is delightful and charming, portraying a slip of a girl brought up aloof from the evil of the world and then suddenly thrust among it. How she, in her innocence, is unaware of the sins of society and returns unscathed to her Eden form a delightful topic for numerous interesting situations, some amusing, others tragic.

"The Return of Eve" is a society drama with unique angles. A millionaire places two orphan children in a wilderness to grow up in primitive naturalness. At 19 they are thrust into civilization. The girl, Eve, is delighted and the boy is disgusted with the sham of society. He leaves when she refuses to return to Eden. Her love affair with a society idler turns out badly. In Eden, she lives in sorrow, believing that Adam, the boy, whom she now knows she loves, cares for another. An old tutor, understanding all, brings Adam back and the three give up the world for their garden in the wilderness. The preliminary reel will be "The Best Man," a Paramount comedy. Tomorrow, Baby Marie Osborne, in a beautiful picture, "Joy and the Dragon." Bring the kiddies. Washington souvenirs given away to the children all day.

This morning services were held in Catholic and Episcopal churches to commemorate the first day of Lent, known as Ash Wednesday. At St. Patrick's church before mass the congregation received the ashes placed on the forehead with a mark of the cross. This ceremony is to remind the worshippers that "dust thou art and to dust thou shalt return."

Last evening was Shrove Tuesday, usually celebrated in southern cities with masquerade dances and a great parade in the afternoon. This is the day when New Orleans shines and the entire city turns out in the gayest attire to bid farewell to the season of revelry.
